Library Access
As a law school graduate you are welcome to use the Law Library during the same hours as students. Although the group study rooms are for student use, you may use them during the summer while studying for the Bar Exam.

Reference Services
Take advantage of the expertise of the Research Librarians after you graduate! Call, chat with, or email Research Librarians with research questions. They will be happy to provide suggestions for sources and tips for both online searching as well as efficient use of the Boley Law Library collection. Also, don't forget to bookmark the Library's web page for its extensive collection of links for online legal research as well as access to the library catalog.

Lifetime Borrowing Privileges
Law school alumni have lifetime borrowing privileges. As a graduate of the law school, you may check-out regularly circulating library materials from Boley. Be sure to get your Lewis & Clark Law School Alumni card from the Alumni office. The first time you check out materials as a graduate you will need to show your Alumni card and update your library record.

Databases (On Campus)
The Library subscribes to several online legal research databases that are free when accessed on campus. Among these are BarBooks, Fastcase, HeinOnline, and ProQuest.

Databases (Off Campus)
Bloomberg, Lexis, and Westlaw all provide access to recent graduates, but the restrictions vary on the type and length of use. The latest details are available at https://library.lclark.edu/law/blog/home/Summer-and-Graduate-Access-to-Bloomberg-Lexis-and-Westlaw.

Fastcase is available to all Oregonians through the State of Oregon Law Library. Information about access to Fastcase is available at http://soll.libguides.com/index/public.

HeinOnline is available to anyone with a Washington County Cooperative Library Services (WCCLS) library card. More information is available at https://www.wccls.org/research/heinonline. You may be eligible for a WCCLS library card even if you do not reside in Washington County; more information is available at https://www.wccls.org/apply-or-renew-library-card.

Wood Hall Computer Labs and Network Access
Law school alumni have lifetime access to the computer lab computers (with no printing privileges). Please show your alumni credentials to the lab manager or a student lab assistant to obtain a guest login for the lab computers. Alumni cards are available from Law Alumni Relations.

To access the college's wi-fi network, newly graduated alums will continue to use their email login credentials. Email accounts for May graduates will remain valid for more than a year following graduation, i.e., through August of the following year. For instructions on how to connect and guidelines for usage, please read the law school's network access policy at http://law.lclark.edu/offices/computing_services/networkpolicy.php.

Attorney Services (Document Delivery)
Attorney Services is a fee-based document delivery service available to lawyers. Please see the Attorney Services page for details: https://library.lclark.edu/law/services/attorney.
